Special Dinner and Tour of Fowler Museum Exhibits

Friday, October 23, 2009

4:30 pm – 5:30 pm: Tour of Fowler Museum Exhibits - Grass Roots: African Origins of an American Art & African American Life on the Gullah/Geechee Coast: Photographs by Greg Day, 1970-1977

5:30 pm – 7:00 pm: Special Caribbean catered dinner served in the Fowler Museum Courtyard (cuisine and location of dinner subject to change).

The cost of this dinner is $35. The dinner cost can be paid along with your registration, or later via the online registration link. This dinner is on a first-come, first-serve basis and will only take place if enough people sign up. So please sign up as soon as possible to give us an idea how many people are interested, and no later than September 15, 2009. (It may be possible for additional people to join the dinner after this date, pending available space, but this cannot be guaranteed.) Refunds for dinner can be given for those canceling on or before the deadline of September 15, 2009, or if the dinner is canceled by the organizers due to fewer than the minimum number of people signing up.

Central City Tour*

Monday, October 26, 2009, 12:00-6:00 pm

Please join us for a guided bus tour of Los Angeles' Central City, created specifically for this symposium. We will visit neighborhoods and sites of importance to the African American community in Los Angeles, including Central Avenue, Leimert Park, Eubanks Conservatory of Music and Arts (founded in 1951 by Rachel Eubanks, d. 2006), the Ralph J. Bunche Home, the West Adams Heights/Sugar Hill area, and more! The tour includes a stop for dinner at Merkato Ethiopian Restaurant in LA's "Little Ethiopia" district.

The cost of this tour is $35 (cost of the Ethiopian dinner is additional). The tour cost can be paid along with your registration, or later via the online registration link. This tour is on a first-come, first-serve basis and will only take place if enough people sign up. So please sign up as soon as possible to give us an idea how many people are interested, and no later than September 15, 2009. For those not booking the tour by the deadline, additional people may be able to join the tour on a space-available basis, but this is not guaranteed. Refunds for the tour can be given for those canceling on or before the deadline of September 15, 2009, or if the tour is canceled by the organizers due to fewer than the minimum number of people signing up.

* This tour is a separate event and is not connected to the dinner and tour at the Fowler Museum.
